CENTER FOR THE ART OF PERFORMANCE UCLA
Welcome TO THE 2022-23 SEASON

UCLA’s Center for the Art of Performance (CAP UCLA) is dedicated to the advancement of the contemporary performing arts in all disciplines — dance, music, spoken word and theater, as well as emerging digital, collaborative and cross cultural platforms — by leading artists from around the globe.

Our mission aligns with UCLA’s mission of education, research and civic engagement by providing cultural and experiential programs that provoke inquiry and facilitate connection and creativity.

Program Notes

“For the problem of the Twentieth Century is the problem of the color-line . . . the relation of the darker to the lighter races of men . . . And yet, being a problem is a strange experience,—peculiar even for one who has never been anything else.” - W.E.B. Du Bois, The Souls of Black Folk (1903)

I have long accepted Dr. King’s immortal words “We Shall Overcome” mixed with the scripture of our democracy as formed and shaped by we the people. And yet there’s always been an uneasy recognition of the truth at the base of the great W.E.B. Du Bois statement concerning “the Problem”. The “Color Line” for Du Bois represented the epitome of otherness, yet we now understand this is much more complex. In our fractious era, I am compelled to elaborate on this “line” in terms of sexual politics, gender identity, class struggles, and especially at this moment in time, immigration.

These ideas collide in my mind and my creative self like tectonic plates. Tectonic activity creates land formations, volcanic eruptions and rearranging of whole continents. What Problem? is the latest result of this social/political/spiritual grinding and reformation.

Are you a problem? And what does it mean to be a problem?

All of my work is in pursuit of the “we”. What Problem? is the notion of “WE THE PEOPLE”.

~ Bill T. Jones

The Hymn

Text: Herman Melville
Melody: Chanel Howard
Part I Performed by: Danielle Marshall and Vocalists
Part II Performed by: Danielle Marshall, Marie Lloyd Paspe and Jada Jenai

The ribs and terrors in the whale
Arched over me a dismal gloom
While all God’s sunlit rays rolled by
And left me deepening down to doom

I saw the opening maw of hell,
With endless pains and sorrows there;
Which none but they that feel can tell—
Oh, I was plunging to despair.

Design for Sharing (DFS)

DFS is CAP UCLA’s free K-12 arts education program. Since 1969, DFS has been making the performing arts at UCLA an accessible and inspirational part of children’s lives. Each year, thousands of students engage with artists and explore their own creativity through performances, workshops or in-class residency activities.

UCLA Nimoy Theater

As the performing arts sector adapts to this transformative time, CAP UCLA is developing a dynamic space for a re-imagined future. The Nimoy is envisioned as a much-needed public platform for contemporary performance and a cultural gathering space where the potential of performing artists and audiences will evolve together. There will be updates throughout the season as we near the opening.

There is no room for racism.

Anywhere
Not on our stages, in our offices, on our loading docks, in the box office lines, or on the dance floor.

With anyone
Not with our staff, crew, artists, volunteers, ushers, audiences or fans.

We uphold and embrace principles of antiracism, equity, diversity and AUTHENTIC inclusion as integral to our mission.
We must EMPOWER the historically underrepresented.
We must UPLIFT excluded voices.
We must RESIST structural racism.
We will COMMIT fiercely to our responsibility to observe, absorb, consider, contemplate, endure, share and engage in this change.

There is no room for discrimination, intolerance or inequity.

We stand against all forms of discrimination and look forward to furthering our work towards making our organization more equitable.

As part of the UCLA's School of Art & Architecture ecosystem (SOAA), we, UCLA's Center for the Art of Performance (CAP UCLA) and Theater Management Services (TMS), serve to connect and create space for the arts and for all communities. We acknowledge our organizations’ histories as being predominantly white institutions. We are now facing these uncomfortable truths and we are working to make the deep changes necessary to eliminate this systemic racism, dismantle any existing oppressive structures and pledge to transform the organizational dynamics in our work culture and business practices. There will be shortcomings that we will face head on, and we commit to staying fluid and adapting to changes as often as they come. It is only in an improved, supportive work environment that everyone can be present as their true authentic selves.

Together we stand with UCLA's School of Art and Architecture's EDI statement: arts.ucla.edu/resource/equity-diversity-and-inclusion/
CAP UCLA Council Leadership

CAP UCLA Executive Producer Council

The Executive Producer Council is CAP UCLA’s philanthropic leadership group that develops and contributes resources vital to the Center’s programming and mission. The Council comprises individuals who champion the creative development, presentation and public dialogue with contemporary performing artists by providing direct support for the Center’s annual programming. They are engaged in the artistic and curatorial practices that inform the annual programs, long-term initiatives and collaborative planning efforts which stand at the heart of CAP UCLA’s mission and public purpose.

Design for Sharing (DFS) Council

The Design for Sharing Council is a group of dedicated supporters whose efforts help to resource the K-12 arts education programs of DFS.

Special Thanks

As we continue to recover from the COVID-19 pandemic, CAP UCLA would like to acknowledge the critical support we received from a Shuttered Venue Operators Grant. This historic initiative—part of the American Rescue Fund Act passed by Congress in March 2021—represents a significant commitment to the arts and a recognition of the value of the arts and culture sector to the nation’s economy and recovery. We would especially like to thank members of Congress who supported the inclusion of university-based performing arts centers and helped make this vital funding possible.
Join CAP UCLA

We are committed to presenting groundbreaking artists and performances that keep people inspired and connected globally and across cultures. Our community of supporters are vital collaborators in all that we do. Join the collective of arts enthusiasts dedicated to creativity and deepen your relationship to the artistic process.
